Katydid's FREE 5th Friday Dance

THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Dear Katydids,

Just when you think it was safe to slip away from Club on vacation, your dear President comes along to tell you that we have planned one of the busiest scheduled set of Club events yet seen in his administration. Now, how can you justify being away for even just one weekend or Friday nights? After all, you want to get your monies worth, don't you? That's what you pay Club dues for, isn't it?

First of all, you did remember we were going to be DARK on Friday, August 2nd because we were all going to gussy up in our square dance apparel and Club badges so we could join our good friend Jane Bishop dancing at the Santa Clara County Fair from 6:00 to 8:30 PM (Tork is calling at 6:00). She even arranged for us to get in FREE. What a deal!

On Friday, August 9th we are hosting our annual HOT AUGUST NIGHTS DANCE and we will have a fantastic offering of used square dance apparel for sale. Anyone (even if they are not square dancers) is welcome to come in to view and purchase the apparel but we especially want established square dancers to join us on the floor.

And then on Friday, August 16th, we are feeling so good about ourselves that we are inviting our neighborhood friends and other interested associates to join us for another of our introductory FREE 'BARN DANCE' SOCIALS during the first part of our evening's program (7:00 to 8:30). If that were not enough, we will continue our evening with a 'Summer Harvest' themed party where you can dance dressed in your garden/farm best (such as bib coveralls?), share the fruits and vegetable bounty of your garden, or baked goods produced by your own hands (did someone say rhubarb pie?).

With all this excitement going on, we think we need to give you a moment of respite and offer you a chance to have a safe and sane normal Club night on August 23rd. However, I wouldn't be surprised if Doctor Jim Osborne declares a quarantine on our gathering that evening and makes sure that at least one set of dancing is sanitary and sterile (no-touch dancing)! We wouldn't want the spread of those nasty germs to spoil the rest of your summer!

And just when you think "enough, already!", along comes our FREE FIFTH FRIDAY DANCE on August 30th when everyone from the Valley converges on our gathering, including January and September level class members to partake of that American tradition ... FREE! (It's almost as bad as the battle cry of the American housewife, "CHARGE IT!")

Now, my friends, if you think that you've had enough, you haven't read the Chirper calendar sidebars!

On Thursday, August 8th, the Stevens' will be hosting a second meeting at their house (4862 Morden Drive in west San Jose) on the topic of the 'FUTURE OF THE KATYDIDS AND SQUARE DANCING' (starting at 7-PM). Think of it as a 'prayer vigil' for square dancing in Silicon Valley!

And Pat Angotti 'swears' that she is no longer addicted to planning bus trips for the Katydids with Gary Halloway, the esteemed historical docent of the Bay Area and surroundings. She also 'swears' that the all day trip to Sonoma will be her last. The bus trip to 'EXPLORE SONOMA' will leave from the First Baptist Church parking lot on Benton Ave in Santa Clara on Saturday, August 17th (meet at 7:30 AM - $60 tariff). "Sure, Pat! We know you can quit...anytime!"

Now, if we haven't pummeled you enough to beat you into submission (what vacation plans?), how can you afford to miss the Saturday night August slab dances in Ben Lomond hosted by the Lucky Steppers. Featured callers include: Don Benson (August 3rd - newer dancer level), Jim Osborne (August 10th), Eric Henerlau (August 17th) and Michael Kellogg (August 24th).

And did I fail to mention the SCVCA/SCVSDA WHING DING at the Sunnyvale Presbyterian Church on Fremont Avenue in Sunnyvale on Saturday August 31? Featured callers are Keith Ferguson, Bob Elling, Al Knoppe and Jim Osborne.

So if you really think you are going to be able to slip away on vacation unnoticed, think again. I WILL BE EXPECTING A NOTE OF DISPENSATION FROM YOUR RABBI, PRIEST, MINISTER OR PRAYER LEADER EXPLAINING THE CIRCUMSTANCES REGARDING 'THE BIG ONE THAT GOT AWAY'!

Enjoy your summer, anyway you choose to SIN it! But remember, we expect you to spend it with us!

PS Yes, we love you Pat!. We want to thank you for the many good times that you have shared in putting together memorable bus trips around northern California (even the cemetery visit to Colma in October!). Who would have thought Gary would have had such a variety of background information about the 'residents' there.)

By the way, I issue a challenge to our Club members to come up with new (and perhaps unusual) ideas for social events that we can all share.

Chirper Chatter...

Morris Hosoda played in the Redwood City Annual July 4th 1-Pitch Tournament. This he claims is a fun game and it is co-ed. Your own pitcher pitches to you and like the title says you will only get 1-pitch...you swing or you are out. He played in Folsom July 6-7 and claims that the results have improved to 4 wins, 2 losses and the 90+ heat just drained him. He played in Carson City, NV July 27/28 with slightly under 90 degree temp and did fairly well, 3 wins and 2 losses. After a day off he will be playing in the Sacramento/Roseville SSUSA Western Regional National Championship T-W-Th, July30-Aug. 1. He also would like to report that from approximately June 20 to when his dermatologist released him on July 1, he had a mild case of SHINGLES (he says not enough to re-roof his house)...

Bob and Opal Hebson have been noticeably absent. It turns out that Bob has been having mechanical problems with his pacemaker. The wire that was used in the 6/28 surgery moved so he was back in on 7/11 to reseal it. While in post op the device started to do funny things and discovered that the wire they used on 6/28 was bad and had to replace that wire in the vein...not successful...so a complete new system was replaced. Everything is fine now but was instructed not to dance until 8/10. He hopes the new device will help him remember the calls better...

You may have noticed the continued absence of our ever present Joyce Wies. She is suffering from Plantar Fasciitis, a real pain in the bottom of her right heel. I know of many people who have agonized for weeks with this but they do get over it so here is wishing you well and hurry back...

Sue Willey has requested to be placed on Leave Of Absence which the Board approved. She has a lower back pain often associated with sciatica and feels the aggravated pain when trying to dance. This too shall pass so hurry back...

Soon as Sue DeLapp got over her injury and pain in her foot, Gary DeLapp had a bout with poison oak playing golf. Gary, be careful when you go looking for your ball in the rough. They are both well now and dancing. Watch how they do the round dance, just beautiful...

On Monday, July 15, Pat Angotti was with her small dog, Toby, when she was confronted by two large dogs at the corner of Nobili & Flora Vista in Santa Clara. She carried Toby but the dogs were not deterred and went after Toby, cutting Pat's finger but Toby was unhurt. When she realized what was going on, the attacking dogs and its owner were no-where to be found. Police and Animal Control are trying to help her find the attackers...Update: Owner of the dog that bit Pat has been found and were very apologetic

Linda Caywood recently had a cataract operation, not one, but both eyes at the same procedure. Eye drop medication is a must for several weeks and gradually dropping off. John Caywood is now under contract with Katydid's to be our cuer and now we can advertise that Katydid's will provide Round Dancing between tips...

Teri Cosentino had a terrible horse riding accident where her horse suddenly bucked her off resulting in injuring couple of her vertebrae, a broken finger and broken collar bone. You are in good hands and recovery will be slow but hurry up and get well so you can join the square dancing world soon...

Former member and president, Roger Hemsley, had a problem with a medication he was taking and it affected his lungs and spent 2 months in the hospital and then another month in rehab. He is home recuperating now and happily celebrated his birthday on July 22 ...

This is a personal thank you to all who made our recent class graduation and baseball theme party night the success that it turned out to be. Everyone contributed in their own way. Thank you.

Jim & Arlene go to Belize~ PART 2

ed. note: Many thanks to Jim Gray and Arlene Scallon for sending Morris and then me two(!) articles for the Chirper. Part 1 was by Arlene, and was published in the July Chirper. Here is the promised Part 2 which was written by Jim. Welcome back, Jim & Arlene!!

From Jim: Arlene's last day teaching was Friday so we couldn't get to Belize until Saturday. We left San Francisco at 6am with a stop in Houston and arrived at the Belize international airport at about 4:30pm. Not bad time for roughly 3000 miles.

Belize City is the biggest in the country but most people recommend tourists just drive through without stopping. It is usually compared to Tijuana. Our first night was in Belmopan which is the capital city. Getting to Belmopan is somewhat of a fun story. Belmopan is on the Western Highway, there is also a Northern Highway, they are both paved. Along the way, about 50miles, are many villages each with a bus stop and a cross walk or two. Each village cross walk and bus stop has two "bumps" to make sure traffic is moving at a safe pace. Our little rental car did not seem to know when the bumps would appear and it took a while to recognize the normal bump locations. The car miraculously suffered no blowouts, bent wheels or lost hub-caps.

The Belize road system is actually very simple for a stranger to figure out if they just take a step back and appraise the situation. If you are driving on pavement you are probably on the highway and if you are on gravel you are not on the highway and should slow down. We might have seen half a dozen speed limit signs while in the country but the best bet was to go with the flow. Finding our first room was an adventure because the sun was setting and our GPS did not show the gravel streets in the area we had been instructed to search. However one must be resourceful. We stopped at a restaurant in the area and inquired about dinner. Next we told the restaurant person we would return for dinner after we checked in to our room. They were more than happy to direct us and we were very happy to have a place to eat. The official language of Belize is English spoken with a California accent. It is bordered by Mexico (north) and Guatemala (south) so many speak Spanish and Creole. Road signs were at a premium so getting turned around could cost many extra miles, each of the three major cities we visited had a road sign pointing to the next city but between cities there were no signs

On our first full day, we visited the Belize Zoo. It was started with animals used in a movie that could not be returned to the wild and now contains only rescued animals from Belize. After the zoo we visited one of many caves in Belize. They are limestone with stalactites and stalagmites and lots of water. We hired a guide for the next day, the place closed at 4pm, and returned to our room and a swim in the pool. That evening we ate on the porch of a nearby restaurant that had closed for the day, the cook was still there and fixed us a meal, but we couldn't enter the building because the cleaning crew was moving the tables and mopping the floor.

Our second day was spent tubing in the cave. Just our guide, Omar, Arlene and myself. Omar was very knowledgeable about the Mayan's who had used this cave about 2000 years ago for ceremonies. The river water was about 75-80 degrees and usually less than four feet deep. We floated for about an hour and a half on inner tubes viewing the cave walls and seeing bats using our head mounted lamps.

From the cave we moved to San Ignacio and our second city. It was only a few miles down the highway, perhaps twenty or thirty, so we stopped here and there for shopping and looking. As we approached San Ignacio we encountered a detour and while traversing the detour on the gravel streets we were forced to leave the detour by another detour. It was very confusing I was very lost and Arlene was napping. Well this was not New York City and I finally realized that we were leaving town on the highway, and the closest directions must be behind me. I swallowed my pride, woke Arlene and the two of us were able to find our accommodations which were, of course, on a gravel road not shown on the GPS or Google maps. This resort was very nice and consisted of individual cabins on spacious grounds. Also a nice bar, swimming pool and screened eating room for breakfast. Dogs, cats, iguanas squirrels, lizards and mosquitoes roamed freely. The grounds were green and lush just like their advertisement. We ate at a nearby restaurant with the same open atmosphere.

The next day we were up and atum for an early 10 am breakfast and off to the Mayan ruins. A short 10-15 mile trip towards Guatemala. We were looking for a ferry which crosses the river between the highway and the ruins. Easy peasy, when you see the folks selling trinkets a tourist attraction must be close. The ferry was adjacent to the highway. We parked off the high way and walked onto the ferry which was attached to a cable attached to both banks of the river. The operator turned the crank by hand and propelled us across the river, which was only slightly wider than the ferry. We walked about a mile up the road to the sight of the Mayan ruins. The vegetation was green and lush and cattle were grazing beside the road, a very nice peaceful walk. We loaded up on bottled water, paid the entrance fee and enjoyed a few hours climbing and walking and being in awe of the structure built so very long ago and the big monkey hanging out in a very tall tree.

Back to San Ignacio and dinner in town after a swim in the pool and a walk across a narrow cable supported swaying bridge. This was a shortcut for bicycles and pedestrians. After our swim we made the short walk into town. This part of town was very active at night. A lot of local people shopping, eating dinner and just hanging around.

The next morning was check-out time again. We left San Ignacio and stopped in Belmopan for a junk food breakfast at a large grocery store we had visited earlier. Their grocery stores are little more than warehouses with shelves but do contain all the necessary supplies. Soft drinks, fruit, cookies, ice cream etc, that I need for vacation survival. Oh and bottled water the most important of necessities, After leaving the grocery we stopped at the Monkey some thing or the other which turned out to be a research outpost for educators and other people studying Belize. It is run by an

America who found Belize as a volunteer in the Peace Corps. We did not see any monkeys here and I don't know why monkey was in the name. Anyway off we went to the airport to drop off our car and catch a ten passenger plane to San Pedro a small city on Ambergris Caye. Just a note of caution, we rented a car and it worked really well for us (they are expensive) but most knowledgeable people recommend using the taxis and or buses. Driving in Belize can be very exciting and getting lost is very easy

After about 20 minutes our small plane landed us in San Pedro and our golf cart with driver was waiting. Our hotel was about five minutes from the airport by foot or golf cart which is the preferred transportation just ahead of bicycles. There is no golf course. Our first full day was spent on a rented golf cart exploring the island. We even crossed the toll bridge to the other half. The second day was snorkeling off the hotel pier in about five feet of crystal clear water. The third day was a snorkel trip to the reef that protects the island from the Caribbean Sea. Ya gotta swim with the fish, turtles, sharks, and rays if you are at the world's second longest reef. This was also the first day of lobster season so we ate barbequed lobster on the beach for lunch. Our last full day was dilled by a tropical storm so we rented electric bikes and rode the beach until the storm drove us to cover.

Our last day started with another heavy rain so we ate breakfast in our room packed and went on a last short shopping trip. Arlene found out the storm was very serious so we moved up our departure by an hour and "got outta dodge" early.

The Belize airport is worth a mention. It does not have a lighted runway. And only three or four major airlines land there. It opens at 8am and closes at 7pm. But most of the activity is between lunch and 5pm when the big planes full of tourists land, let off their passengers, board the departing tourists, and take off again. If you have a problem, it will wait until the airport is open.

We don't take our travels very seriously, no hard schedules and no big expectations. We don't dwell on the minor irritations. Belize is not paradise, but it has some wonderful places and delightful people who left with us wonderful memories. The very reason we went there and the reason our trip was fantastic.

PINEAPPLE INSIDE-OUT CAKE

Serves 16

- Place a rack in the center of the oven and preheat oven to 350°F
- Grease & flour 10-inch tube pan with solid shortening & dust with flour. Shake out the excess flour. Set aside.

- 1 -pkg (18.25 oz) plain lemon cake mix
- 1 can (15 1/4 oz) crushed pineapple packed in juice (divided into two 1-cup portions)
- 1/4 c. granulated sugar
- 1/2 c. vegetable oil
- 4 large eggs
- 1 c. confectioners' sugar, sifted
- 1 T fresh lemon juice

- Place the cake mix, 1 cup undrained crushed pineapple, sugar, oil, and eggs in a large mixing bowl and blend with an electric mixer on low speed for 1 minute. Stop the machine and scrape down the sides of the bowl with a rubber spatula. Increase the mixer speed to medium and beat for 2 minutes more, scraping the sides down again if needed. The pineapple should be well blended into the batter. Pour the batter into the prepared pan, smoothing the top with the rubber spatula. Place the pan in the oven.
- Bake the cake until it springs back when lightly pressed with your finger and just starts to pull away from the sides of the pan, 48-50 minutes. Remove the pan from the oven and place the pan on a wire rack to cool for 15 minutes. Run a long, sharp knife around the edge of the cake and invert it onto a rack, then invert onto another rack so the cake is right side up. Allow it to cool completely, 30 minutes or more.
- Meanwhile, prepare the glaze. First, drain the remaining 1 cup crushed pineapple and reserve the juice. Combine the confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons of the reserved pineapple juice, and the lemon juice in a small bowl and stir with a wooden spoon until smooth.
- Place the cake on a serving platter. Spoon the glaze onto the cooled cake. Spoon the remaining 1 cup drained pineapple on top of the glaze. Slice and serve.
- Store this cake, covered in plastic wrap or under a glass cake dome, at room temperature for up to 1 week. The remaining 1 cup crushed pineapple will keep, covered, the refrigerator for up to 1 week.
